AN OPEN LETTER FROM

I confess that this month it has been extremely hard for me to get this newsletter ready for press. As have most other Americans, I stopped often to check the latest news from Washington and New York. My thoughts and prayers go out to the families and friends of the victims, our service men and women, and our President.

In the third chapter of Ecclesiastes the writer states, "To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under heaven:" The second part of the fourth verse says: "a time of war, and a time of peace." Although our nation did not seek war it has been forced upon us. It greatly saddens my heart to realize that in just minutes we passed from a time of peace to a time of war and that so many of the children of our nation will now be called upon to defend our great country.

We must now pray for and support our young men and women as they go out to face and defeat the enemy. Please join with me to invoking God's speed and protection on each and every one of them.

"THOUGHTS REFLECT"

With pen in hand I'm compelled to write emotions that I feel. As my thoughts reflect on paper, I cannot believe they're real. I see the buildings coming down. I hear the people scream. I pray that soon I will awake and find it all a dream. How dare one man decide the fate, of the lives of all of us! How dare one country harbor him, as though his acts were just! Anger rises in my heart. My eyes are filled with tears. "America the Beautiful", we are all one family here. This horrific act has touched us all. We will never be the same. The world must stand in unity and punish those to blame. I wonder if life still exists beneath the rubble deep— or if those loved ones missing still, are in eternal sleep. I see the faces filled with fear. However will they cope? So many hearts in great despair, cling fast to dwindling hope. I pray, "Dear God, a morsel please, a tiny crust of bread. We know that you can heal the lame and resurrect the dead. Reach down your hands and help us please, to move the stones aside, so air and light can filter in to those entombed inside." With head bowed low, I rest my pen but my prayers continue on — "God bless each heart with peace and hope and keep our country strong."
